Trinity News
August 2012

We bid farewell to our Headmistress Dhanalakshmi who has served SPV faithfully since June 2007. She joined SPV a year earlier as a teacher. During her term of office, she has helped to transit the school administration operating from a small rented premise to the present new school building.

May our Good Lord bless her and her family in her new undertakings.

Welcome to our new Headmistress
Durga Priya

Durga Priya joined SPV in June 2010 as a teacher teaching science in the High School classes. She obtained her MSc in Physics from Sri Venkateswara University. Her rich experience in her previous job as Headmistress of Little Star High School will certainly help SPV move to the next level of school excellence. She helps to set up the new Science Laboratory.

She is married to Mr Chandrasekar and is expecting their first child in April 2013.

Testimonies from graduating students

Love in SPV

Bhanupratap
(RK Junior College)

I studied at SPV since I was four. It was a life filled with unconditional love. The 12 long years never fell short of that love. Our beloved teachers who were blessed with knowledge and wisdom are our blessings as well. They not only have taught us our subjects well but taught us life skills; to be loving, humble and respectful to elders. We are blessed to learn from Big Miss (referring to Mrs Shanthapaul) and Uncle Paul. I enjoyed their love. I feel that I am in the warmth of my mother in their presence.

I have found my best friends here. They help me when I am in need. God gave me parents but SPV gave me friends. At last, I had to face my parting with SPV which was painful. But I had to go because I have to grow to lead my life. SPV taught me the reality of life; its challenges and its opportunities to serve the community with love.

My life at SPV is not a short story but it would become a novel of 12 big volumes. I miss Uncle Fred and Auntie Jasmine a lot.

Life in SPV

Pinky
(RK Junior College)

My time in SPV is the best time of my life that I will cherish every memory of it very much. I enjoyed it all without missing a single moment.

I learnt a lot of good things from my teachers: discipline, respecting elders, obedience, etc. The English lessons taught in SPV are the best. This is a fact that I can proclaim it since I met students from other schools studying in my present college.

When I was in SPV, I did not realise how much love I have shared with the younger brothers and sisters in the school. There is unity in taking care of one another. The separation on the day of our school farewell was hard to bear as I finally understood how much Big Miss, Uncle Paul, teachers and younger ones loved me, too.

There is a great difference between school life and college life. Now, I feel that I have left my family. It is the same feeling of pain in separation when I first left my mother's hand, learning to walk on my own. As I left the school, I have learnt to walk all by myself; yet not alone. It is with a mixed feeling of joy. The memories of my school days and the life lessons taught can never be deleted from my mind. Auntie Jasmine and Uncle Fred, I miss you.

SPV, My Family

Roshini
(RK Junior College)

SPV is my family. Big Miss, Uncle Paul, and teachers are my parents. I enjoyed experiencing love in SPV. I thank God for giving me an opportunity to study there. I will miss SPV. I wish my teachers could also teach me in my college. I thank God for giving me a loving SPV family.

I will miss Uncle Fred and Auntie Jasmine, too. All my seniors have received their Bibles, blessings and prayers from Uncle Fred and Auntie Jasmine. We wish that we could receive ours from them personally as they missed coming to SPV last year. Both of them have brought so many changes to enhance our family life in SPV. They have brought us to a new level of experiencing Christian love.

Farewell for the Graduating Class of 2012

This is the highest number since SPV re-structured 7 years ago. The total number of students now stands at 240.
