

Welcome Home, Madam Shantha

20 years have been a long time for St. Paul's V to have stood the test of time since its two founders, Paul and Shantha, took a personal interest in providing good standard of education in English medium to the children of Chittoor. The only break they had was to further equip themselves in their theological knowledge in Singapore. The school was then left in the care of Karuna, Paul's younger brother. By God's grace, the student enrolment grew over the last three years to 312. Meanwhile, Trinity Foundation Trust was formed to gather more resources.

We are pleased to announce that as from this new academic year, 2005/6, St. Paul's V is now an institution of the Trinity Foundation Trust. The Board of Trustees met on 6 June, is determined to find a permanent school where students, former students and their teachers alike can call it, home. 20 years of wondering in "wilderness" will soon be made history. However, this vision can easily be realised when the combined effort of everyone in the Trinity community is equally determined to raise the necessary funds to make it a reality. Paul is thus taking the lead in this fundraising initiative. Let's pray earnestly to seek the generosity of our friends far and wide to make this dream come true for our children's benefits and for their children, too.

"At St. Paul's V, it must be about people; the students and the teachers - not just chasing academic results. Good teachers produce good students and good students produce good results. It is a natural process. Motivate students with good Christian values and God will do the rest. Results will eventually prevail in all God-fearing students." Fred

Thank You Teachers, for your faithfulness in sharing your lives with students at St. Paul's V over the past 20 years. God remembers and will bless you according to His riches.

Parting is often difficult with such lovely friends at Singapore Changi Airport on 31 May 2005. Memories of Singapore and her wonderful people will forever be cherished by Paul and Shantha as they re-enter into the world of their passion to minister to their folks in Chittoor.

At the Thanksgiving reception

Timothy has been a very special child, a long awaited child blessed by God for the faithfulness of his God-fearing parents. May Our Good Lord bless Timothy and keep him in His favour, ever watching over him as he grows up to be as fervent for God as did his parents and all his loving relatives and many faithful pastors that were present to bless him.
